

Workplace Campaign

Every year, millions of employees get involved in workplace giving campaigns to support local United Fund solutions that improve education, financial stability and health.

Why Give

The United Fund workplace campaign unites employees in all departments or branches of a company, and gives them an opportunity to donate, volunteer and speak out for causes that matter to them. You can see the results in your own backyard, even as you're part of a larger mission to affect change county wide.

The workforce campaign is about more than raising money for worthy causes; it also strengthens connections between employees and their community.

Companies that run annual employee campaigns document higher morale and teamwork. Employees learn about services provided by United Way and work together to plan and engage in fun activities to raise money as a company: barbecues, raffles, games, and special incentives for givers, like jeans day or parking in an executive parking space.
